Notes From Bill Lang

- On 1970 May 17, I made notes on the proposed structure of the Institute of Noise Control Engineering.
- INCE would be ... an engineering association for those professionally involved in the control of acoustical noise.
- It would be international in scope with an overseas membership ...
- This new association would ... sponsor an annual symposium with exhibits, state-of-the-art papers covering the entire field, ... we would need a national meeting for the presentation of papers preceding their publication in the journal.

Press Release 1971 July

It is planned that the new organization will sponsor meetings and conferences to hear reports on the latest advances in noise control engineering and will publish one or more periodicals to document these activities... Interest in noise is worldwide....
